

6516208211.txt

I live in a semirural part of California. Satellite radio has been a lifesaver for me, with its varied programming that I could not receive otherwise. I do still listen to local programming, but do not think XM or Sirius should be prohibited from offering local programming such as traffic and weather.